Mr. Héctor M. Mayol Kauffman
Adminstrator
Puerto Rico Judiciary Retirement System
P.O. Box 42003 – Minilas Station
San Juan, PR 00940-2003

Dear Mr. Mayol:

This report presents the results of the actuarial valuation of the Puerto Rico Judiciary Retirement System (PRJRS) as of June 30, 2009. Section I contains highlights of the valuation including a general discussion and comments on the various schedules included in the report. The subsequent Sections contain schedules summarizing the underlying calculations, asset information, participant data, plan benefits and actuarial assumptions and methods.

Purpose

The main purposes of this report are:

- to provide the Annual Required Contribution and Annual Pension Cost for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, 2010 based on relevant Statements of the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB);
- to review the experience under the plan since the previous valuation;
- to present information pertaining to the operation of the plan for inclusion in financial statements; and
- to assess the relative funded position of the plan.

The use of this report for purposes other than those stated above may not be appropriate and should be reviewed with Milliman.

This report was prepared solely to provide assistance to PRJRS. Milliman and PRJRS do not intend to benefit and assume no duty or liability to other parties who receive this work. Milliman and PRJRS recommend that any third party recipient of this report be aided by its own actuary or other qualified professional when reviewing the Milliman report.

Mr. Héctor M. Mayol

The report was prepared solely to provide assistance to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico Judiciary Retirement System for a specific and limited purpose. It is a complex, technical analysis that assumes a high level of knowledge concerning PRJRS's operations, and uses PRJRS's data, which Milliman has not audited. Milliman and PRJRS do not intend to benefit and assume no duty or liability to other parties who receive this report. Milliman and PRJRS recommend that any third party recipient of this report be aided by its own actuary or other qualified professional when reviewing the Milliman report.

Data Reliance

In performing this analysis, we relied on the census data, asset information, and other information (both written and oral) provided by the System. We have not audited or verified the census data, asset information, or other information. To the extent that any of these are inaccurate or incomplete, the results of this valuation may likewise be inaccurate or incomplete.

We did not audit the data used in our analysis, but did review it for reasonableness and consistency and have not found material defects in the data. It is possible that material defects in the data would be uncovered by a detailed, systematic review and comparison of the data to search for data values that are questionable or for relationships that are materially inconsistent. Such a review was beyond the scope of our assignment.

Future Measurements

Future actuarial measurements may differ significantly from the current measurements presented in this report due to factors such as the following:

- Plan experience differing from the actuarial assumptions;
- Future changes in the actuarial assumptions;
- Increases or decreases expected as part of the natural operation of the methodology used for these measurements (such as potential additional contribution requirements due to changes in the plan's funded status); and,
- Changes in the plan provisions or accounting standards.

Due to the limited scope of our assignment, we did not perform an analysis of the potential range of such measurements.

This report was prepared solely to provide assistance to PRJRS. Milliman and PRJRS do not intend to benefit and assume no duty or liability to other parties who receive this work. Milliman and PRJRS recommend that any third party recipient of this report be aided by its own actuary or other qualified professional when reviewing the Milliman report.

Certification

We hereby certify that, to the best of our knowledge, this report is complete and accurate and all costs and liabilities were determined in conformance with generally accepted actuarial principles and practices which are consistent with the Actuarial Standards of Practice promulgated by the Actuarial Standards Board and the applicable Guides to Professional Conduct, amplifying Opinions, and supporting recommendations of the American Academy of Actuaries and are based on actuarial assumptions and methods adopted by the System. All of the actuarial assumptions were developed by Milliman in consultation with PRJRS.

Actuarial computations presented in this report are for purposes of fulfilling financial accounting requirements under the GASB Statements 25, 27, and 45. The calculations in the enclosed report have been made on a basis consistent with our understanding of the plan provisions described in Section VI of this report, and of the applicable GASB Statements. Determinations for purposes other than meeting these requirements may be significantly different from the results contained in this report. Accordingly, additional determinations may be needed for other purposes.

Qualifications

We are members of the Society of Actuaries and meet the qualification standards of the American Academy of Actuaries to render this actuarial opinion.

SECTION I – SUMMARY

B. General Discussion

Basic System Benefits

As summarized in Section VIII, the Puerto Rico Judiciary Retirement System (PRJRS) provides benefits to members, or their beneficiaries, upon:

- Retirement
- Disability
- Vested withdrawal
- Death
- Nonvested withdrawal (return of contributions)
- Christmas bonus ($150)

The statutory funding requirement for these benefits as of the June 30, 2009 valuation date totals 38.34% of payroll, comprising 8.0% member and 30.34% employer contributions. The employer contribution rate increased from 20.0% to 30.34% of payroll as of July 1, 2008.

These benefits will be referred to as the “Basic System Benefits” throughout this report.

System Administered Benefits

Also summarized in Section VIII are benefits granted under a series of special laws that are administered by PRJRS, including:

- Additional minimum death benefit
- Cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs)
- Medical insurance plan contribution
- Summer bonus
- Medication bonus
- Christmas bonus ($450)

These benefits are funded on a pay-as-you-go basis from the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and will be referred to as “System Administered Benefits” throughout this report. These benefits are not an obligation of the PRJRS assets.

This report was prepared solely to provide assistance to PRJRS. Milliman and PRJRS do not intend to benefit and assume no duty or liability to other parties who receive this work. Milliman and PRJRS recommend that any third party recipient of this report be aided by its own actuary or other qualified professional when reviewing the Milliman report.

PUERTO RICO JUDICIARY RETIREMENT SYSTEM

SECTION I – SUMMARY

System Experience since Prior Valuation

The actuarial accrued liability under GASB 25 & 27 is based on an assumed investment rate of return of 7.5%. The actual rates of return since the prior valuation were (8.06%) for 2007-2008 and (22.68%) for 2008-2009. These significant asset losses have greatly increased the System's unfunded actuarial accrued liability since the prior valuation, which results in a significant increase in the Annual Required Contribution under GASB 25 & 27.

Our analysis of System experience from June 30, 2007 to June 30, 2009 resulted in a liability loss of $41 million for Basic System Benefits (e.g. – the June 30, 2007 liability of $228 million was expected to increase to $246 million as of June 30, 2009, and instead increased to $287 million).

Major sources of gains and losses are as follows:

1. $4 million loss on 42 new entrants
2. $35 million loss due to service and other data changes for continuing active members
3. $8 million loss on 12 "pop-up" retirees who were not in the June 30, 2007 census data
4. $4 million gain on retiree and beneficiary mortality
5. $4 million loss on 38 active members who retired during the two-year period
6. $2 million loss due to benefit changes for continuing retirees
7. $5 million gain due to salary increases less than anticipated (no increases were made)
8. $3 million gain from all other sources

Further discussion is warranted on Items 2, 5, and 6.

For Item 2, the years of other government service reported in the census data increased for 245 (out of a total of 302) continuing active members. In the 2007 census data the average amount of government service was 2.6 years for these members. In the 2009 census data the average increased to 8.5 years. Because years of other government service is considered Creditable Service in PRJRS once eight years of judicial service is earned and the accumulated contributions are transferred to PRJRS, this represents a significant increase in the years of service considered, and benefits earned, in PRJRS.

This report was prepared solely to provide assistance to PRJRS. Milliman and PRJRS do not intend to benefit and assume no duty or liability to other parties who receive this work. Milliman and PRJRS recommend that any third party recipient of this report be aided by its own actuary or other qualified professional when reviewing the Milliman report.

PUERTO RICO JUDICIARY RETIREMENT SYSTEM

SECTION I – SUMMARY

For Item 5, possible explanations for losses attributable to individual members include reflection of other government service (which is offset to some extent by the accumulated contributions that are transferred) and data clean-up that may have occurred during the benefit calculation process when the member retired. Many members experienced significant actuarial losses from the previous valuation due to the retirement benefit in the 2009 census data far exceeding what would have expected based on the service and salary amounts reported in the 2007 census data. The information provided in the census data does not allow us to determine which, if any, of the above-mentioned explanations may apply to a particular member.

For Item 6, 225 (out of a total of 261) continuing retirees had unexpected increases in the Basis System and total monthly benefits. Because the increase for most retirees equaled the January 1, 2007 cola amount, we believe that the total monthly benefit (and hence the Basic System benefit) was underreported in the prior census data.

GASB Accounting Information

Accounting results under Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 25, "Financial Reporting for Defined Benefit Pension Plans and Note Disclosures for Defined Contribution Plans" (GASB 25), Statement No. 27, "Accounting for Pensions by State and Local Governmental Employers" (GASB 27), and Governmental Accounting Standards Board Statement No. 45, "Accounting and Financial Reporting by Employers for Postemployment Benefits Other Than Pensions" (GASB 45) are presented in two sections in this report as discussed below. In addition, as requested by PRJRS, we have separately determined the Annual Required Contribution based on GASB 25 and 27 rules for just the Basic System Benefits.

Basic System Benefits Information

We have performed a June 30, 2009 actuarial valuation of the Basic System Benefits and have prepared accounting results for them based on GASB 25 and 27 rules.

The FY 2009-2010 ARC for the Basic System Benefits only based on GASB 25 and 27 rules would be $24,447,551, which equals 79.93% of payroll. The ARC represents the portion of the cost of PRJRS' Basic System Benefits that employers should pay in order for PRJRS to be actuarially sound; i.e., the ARC has been reduced to reflect the fact that active members contribute 8% of pay to the system. The employer portion of the statutory funding requirement, which is 30.34% of payroll, is less than the ARC by 49.59% of payroll, or $15,167,548.

As shown in Subsection D of Section IV, PRJRS has Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liabilities of $237.1 million on behalf of Basic System Benefits, which should be amortized over a period not to exceed 30 years in accordance with GASB 25 and 27 rules. Based on the current statutory member and employer funding requirements, the UAAL is expected to grow indefinitely into the future instead of being amortized. Effectively, this means that the statutory member and employer contributions to PRJRS are not adequate to fund PRJRS' Basic System Benefits. Instead, PRJRS is being disfunded.

GASB 25 and 27 Accounting Information

We have performed a June 30, 2009 actuarial valuation of the Basic System Benefits and the System Administered Benefits (excluding the Medical Insurance Plan Contribution) and have prepared accounting results under GASB 25 for the financial statements of the System and under GASB 27 for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico's financial statements.

The FY 2009-2010 ARC under GASB 25 and 27 is $28,127,454, which equals 91.96% of payroll. This includes the Basic System Benefits and the System Administered Benefits (excluding the Medical Insurance Plan Contribution). The FY 2009-2010 APC under GASB 27 is $27,894,796, which equals 91.20% of payroll.

As shown in Subsection B of Section V, the Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liability on a GASB 25 and 27 basis is $273.4 million. Based on the current funding requirements, the UAAL is expected to grow indefinitely into the future. As discussed above, the statutory member and employer contributions to PRJRS are not adequate to fund PRJRS' Basic System Benefits. Instead, PRJRS is being disfunded. The System Administered Benefits are financed on a pay-as-you-go basis from the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico

Rico's financial statements under GASB 45. This benefit has not been previously valued. (Note that the Medication Bonus has been included in the GASB 25 and 27 results as a Pension Benefit because members can receive the bonus without submitting documentation to substantiate medication expenses.)

The FY 2009-2010 ARC for the Medical Insurance Plan Contribution under GASB 45 is $488,319, which equals 1.60% of payroll.

There are no member or employer contributions on behalf of the Medical Insurance Plan Contribution. This benefit is financed on a pay-as-you-go basis from the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Since this is an Other Postemployment Benefit that is not funded in advance, the ARC for this benefit has been calculated based on an assumed investment return rate of 4.0%, instead of the 7.5% rate used for the Pension Benefits. As shown in Subsection B of Section VI, the Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liability on a GASB 45 basis for this benefit is $5.6 million.

Solvency Test for Basic System Benefits

Subsection A of Section III determines the solvency percentage for each membership group for the Basic System Benefits. The Actuarial Value of Assets was allocated to each membership group by first allocating based on the accumulated member contributions with interest. The remaining assets were then assigned first to retirees, disabled members, and beneficiaries, second to terminated members with rights to a deferred pension, and then to active members. As shown in Subsection A of Section III, the overall solvency percentage is 17.6%. For retirees, disabled members, and beneficiaries, the solvency percentage is 14.6%. Vested terminated members with rights to deferred pensions or due a refund of member contributions and active members have solvency percentages of 14.0% and 21.6%, respectively. Accumulated member contributions for active members includes contributions from other government retirement systems as years of government service are considered in this system once eight years of service are earned as a judge.

Note there were insufficient assets to cover all of the benefit obligations attributable to retirees, disabled members, and beneficiaries. Therefore, the assets allocated to vested terminated members with the right to a deferred pension or due a refund of member contributions and active members are solely attributable to the accumulated value of their own contributions; no employer contributions are available to fund their benefit obligations based on this allocation procedure.

Cash Flow Projection for Basic System Benefits

PRJRS is a mature retirement system with a significant retiree population. Based on the current statutory funding requirements, the annual benefit payments and administrative expenses paid by the system are significantly larger than the member and employer contributions made to the system. Thus investment income must be used to cover this negative cash flow. As the negative cash flow exceeds expected investment income, system assets are expected to continually decline. PRJRS' liabilities for the Basic System Benefits will continue to increase significantly over time. Thus the funded status can be expected to decline over time based on the actuarial assumptions used to prepare this actuarial valuation.

The table shown in Subsection B of Section III illustrates the expected negative net cash flows over the next 10 years. Annual payroll growth of 3.0% is assumed, as future members are assumed to replace current members who terminate or retire. (Note, we did not attempt to include in the expected benefit payments any benefit payments attributable to new members in preparing this table. Members who join PRJRS in the future will generate some cash outflow during the next 10 years due to refunds of their contributions, death and disability benefits, and immediate annuities due to service purchases, etc. We expect that these amounts will be relatively modest and they have not been included in the results shown. Doing so would increase the expected negative net cash flow.)

Based on this estimate of future contributions and benefit payments, the PRJRS assets will be exhausted by the 2015-2016 fiscal year, assuming an annual 7.5% investment return.

We recommend that the statutory funding requirements be significantly increased in excess of the recent employer contribution rate increase to 30.34% in light of:

- the expected negative net cash flows;
- the forecast exhaustion of plan assets by 2015-2016; and,
- the Annual Required Contribution based on GASB 25 and 27.

SECTION I – SUMMARY

C. Discussion of Supporting Exhibits

System Assets

Section II summarizes the plan assets taken into account in the preparation of the GASB 27 Employer Accounting results for PRJRS.

Subsection A summarizes the Market Value of Assets as of June 30, 2009, including the additional amounts due to the contribution receivables, if any.

Subsection B summarizes the reconciliation of the Market Value of Assets from June 30, 2008 to June 30, 2009.

Subsection C summarizes the development of the Actuarial Value of Assets as of June 30, 2009. The Actuarial Value of Assets is equal to the Market Value of Assets.

Subsection D develops an estimated rate of return on plan assets for the previous plan year. The estimated rate of return from June 30, 2008 to June 30, 2009 was (22.68%) on the Market Value of Assets.

Subsection E summarizes the historical estimated rate of return on plan assets on a market value basis.

The asset information used for the valuation was taken from financial statements provided by PRJRS as of June 30, 2009.

Management Information

Section III presents additional information that has been derived from the valuation process and is illustrative of the expected future decline in funded status that is projected based upon our analysis of the valuation results.

Subsection A shows the allocation of assets to liability for Basic System Benefits by membership group and determines the solvency percentage for each group. Please see Subsection B of Section I for a description of this determination.

PUERTO RICO JUDICIARY RETIREMENT SYSTEM

SECTION X – SUMMARY OF ACTUARIAL METHODS AS OF JUNE 30, 2009

The ultimate cost of a pension plan is the excess of actual benefits and administrative expenses paid over actual net investment return on plan assets during the plan's existence until the last payment has been made to the last participant. The plan's "actuarial cost method" determines the expected incidence of actuarial costs by allocating portions of the ultimate cost to each plan year. The cost method is thus a budgeting tool to help to ensure that the plan will be adequately and systematically funded and accounted for. There are several commonly-used cost methods which differ in how much of the ultimate cost is assigned to each prior and future year. Therefore, the pattern of annual contributions and accounting expense varies with the choice of cost method. Annual contributions and accounting expense are also affected by the "asset valuation method" (as well as the plan provisions, actuarial assumptions, and actual plan demographic and investment experience each year).

Actuarial Cost Method

The plan's actuarial cost method is the projected unit credit method. Under this method, a projected benefit is determined at each active participant's assumed retirement age assuming future compensation increases. The projected benefit is attributed to each year of service using straight proration based on projected service to each assumed retirement age. The plan's normal cost is the sum of the present value of the portion of each active participant's projected benefit attributable to the current year of service. The plan's accrued liability is the sum of (a) the present value of the portion of each active participant's projected benefit attributable to all prior years of service plus (b) the present value of each inactive participant's future benefits.

Asset Valuation Method

The Actuarial Value of Assets is equal to the Market Value of Assets.
